Fay L. Parks and Robert Lewellen of Torrance were named members of the district committee which has charge of Scout work in the harbor area, at a dinner meeting held Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A., San Pedro. The affair is an annual event for adult Scout leaders, committee chairmen and others who are directing Scout activities. Steve Cope, district committeeman, of Wilmington, was in charge of the meeting. Ed Baxter, field executive, was the main speaker. The accomplishments of the past year were reviewed and plans laid for the coming year 1935 which will mark the 25th anniversary of the establishment of Scouting. Torrance troops were represented by Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Ingold, Troop 3, and Robert Lewellen, Troop 4, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Peitzke, manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, stated today that copies of the 1935 edition will be given out free of charge as long as the supply lasts to all those who call in person at the business office, located at 1266 Sartori avenue.

Letters to the Editor

Wants Light On Water Deal
"Some time ago the people of Torrance voted a $400,000 bond issue to drill wells and build a water system. This issue was never sold.

"Some time later much publicity and much urging was used to get Torrance into the Metropolitan water system.

"The people also voted to go into this and have bound themselves to pay a share of the expense of the Metropolitan water system. They were assured of cheaper and better water and not need the wells. We contend that the people expected to get water from the Metropolitan and not have to pay for wells and pumping equipment.

"Now, after paying some $55,000 into the Metropolitan, we are told that we need the wells also.

"Propaganda is being put out that the Metropolitan water will be too expensive to use. Why were we not told this before voting for it?

"The city council has sold $200,000 worth of bonds and proposes to secure a loan of $170,000 from the government. How many water systems does Torrance need? The present one and the aqueduct and the proposed wells will make three sources of supply. We are sure going the whole way. If we were ill advised before, have we any assurance that we are right this time? It looks like a hit or miss (mostly miss) proposition. The Torrance Democratic Club believes it is voicing the popular opinion when it asks the city council to lay all the cards on the table and tell the people through the local paper.

"How many water users are being served by the Torrance system?

"What is the annual income from these subscribers? What is the annual expense, cost of water only? Any other data that will give the public a chance to do a little figuring on its own account.

"In view of past experiences we believe the people are entitled to all the light on this subject. Why are exorbitant prices paid for land and other items by the city?

"Why don't Torrance citizens appraise and estimate costs of water systems and all other items instead of getting outside advice, which is always high? Why don't city council take $170,000 loan from government and retire part of the $200,000 bond issue, thus getting the $42,000 free grant?

"It is not the policy of the Torrance Democratic Club to hinder or embarrass any worthy project, but we believe the people should know what it is all about and how many systems are to be voted on before it is accepted.

"TORRANCE DEMOCRATIC CLUB,
"By EMMETT A. RYAN,
"President."

NOTICE OF INTENTION
Notice of intention to marry was filed in Los Angeles with the county clerk late last week on behalf of Alfred W. Kitto, 53, of 334 Cota street, Torrance, and Lillian C. Willette, 1300 West 84th street, Los Angeles.

News From Washington

By Your Congressman
CHARLES J. GOLDEN

The first roar of oratorical artillery in the House of Representatives was furnished by Congressman Goldborough of Maryland in an hour's speech in behalf of a central bank, all the stock to be owned by the United States government. Mr. Goldborough made this speech to prepare the members for the consideration of the measure he has introduced into Congress. If the bill ever gets through the House and over the Senate, there will be a lot of return fire from the State of Virginia represented by Senator Glass who usually speaks and fights from the bankers' standpoint.

It is very significant that this first speech was made on a subject that is receiving very serious consideration from at least a minority of the members. Such a speech would have been laughed at ten years ago. Yes, even five years ago. It was listened to attentively in these hectic days.

Another very important speech was made in the House by Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas. His topic was upon the dangers and the damages of holding companies. The President opened this subject in his message to Congress. Mr. Rayburn, as chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce, will have charge of a bill for the regulation and perhaps the elimination of holding companies.

Mr. Rayburn pointed out that the process of pyramiding has been carried on so far that in one system, there are ten corporations in the pyramid and the local operating company is nine companies removed from the holding company that controls it. And that in this case, a one-dollar investment in the top holding company controls $30,000 in book value in the operating company. Then we wonder why we have so much trouble in controlling local gas and electric companies sucking the life-blood from the operating company like nine men riding on the back of one.

Judging from the announcement of Congressman Snell of New York, the Republican floor-leader, he is not going to permit Mr. Fletcher, the chairman of the National Republican Committee, to have all the say concerning the future policies of the Republican party. Mr. Snell outlined a program of twenty points. Several of them are taken bodily from the New Deal program. For instance, his program favors the permanent insurance of bank deposits and the abolition of child labor; also unemployment insurance and old age pensions. Apparently Snell has not consulted with Governor Merriam of California. Snell believes that old age pensions and unemployment insurance are state functions and obligations.

The Democratic majority has amended the rules by raising the required number of names needed to discharge a bill from a committee from 145 to 218. This change in the rule makes it much more difficult to take a bill out of a committee and bring it on the floor of the House. When the Republicans were in power, the Democrats and Progressive Republicans combined established the 145 discharge rule. Now the Republicans and the more liberal Democrats fought to save the rule.

A bill can be brought out of a committee in the Senate by one Senator arising in his seat and making the request. In spite of the many old-time traditions of the Senate, it has a much more feasible plan for bringing up legislation than has the House.

California Democrats fared exceedingly well in the assignment to committees in the Seventy-fourth Congress. Frank Buck was elected to the Ways and Means Committee by the largest number of votes received by any candidate. The members of the Ways and Means Committee are selected by the vote of the caucus. All other committee assignments are made on the Democratic side by the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee. John Dockweiler received a choice appointment on the Appropriations Committee. He is on the subcommittee of Military Affairs, the Appropriations Committee being divided into a number of subcommittees, each one in charge of an appropriation bill from various departments.

John M. Costello was placed on Military Affairs and Byron M. Scott of Long Beach on Naval Affairs. Practically all the other members remained on the same committees as before. John Hopton obtained a plum as chairman of the War Claims Committee. All of those ahead of him for this position were either defeated or were made chairman of other committees.

A Santa Claus on the Ways and Means Committee made me a present of a chairmanship of a minor committee, "Disposition of Useless Executive Papers." The word "useless" has caused considerable kidding about this committee but is misleading because this committee passes on the value of inactive files, many of which are sought by the Congressional and other libraries. The Committee also authorizes the sale of the remainder and is a source of some revenue to the government.

This new job reminds me of Ex-Governor Dockery's experience in Missouri. After his term expired, he retired to his home at Gallatin, Missouri. His neighbors thought it a good joke and elected him road-boss. Governor Dockery rolled up his sleeves and made 'em sweat. He afterwards was appointed to an important position under the Wilson administration. Moral... no job however humble is a joke if you approach it with the proper spirit.

I retained my valued place on the Rivers and Harbors Committee, having fared better in the way of committee assignments during my first term as Representative than most of the new members. This Seventy-fourth Congress finds me moved up from fifteenth place to the ninth place on the committee because of vacancies that have occurred since the last session. Four of those ahead of me were not returned to Congress. Two others were displaced because of changing to other committees. There are twenty-five members on this committee and it is a slow and long struggle for a new member to attain the chairmanship of an important committee because of the method of seniority practiced in Congress. According to custom, you retain your place on a committee from year to year until those ahead of you are removed

Christian Church Dinner and Bazaar Held Next Tuesday

Tuesday, January 29, the Torrance Christian church will conduct a public dinner and bazaar. Rev. Elder, pastor of the church, said: "Every member of the church and scores of our friends will have an opportunity to help the new building fund by patronizing the bazaar and dinner. The dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock. The bazaar will be held in the new Bible classroom of the Torrance Men's Bible Class, beginning at 10:00 a. m.

"We will have for sale, house dresses, aprons, fancy articles, cooked foods, home-made candy, canned and fresh fruits, jams, jellies, etc., besides white elephant and miscellaneous counters, a fish pond, a dart throwing game, your correct weight for 1 cent and a grab bag.

"The building will be beautifully decorated for the several classifications. A two-hour continuous program will start at 7:00 p. m. Such artists as Paul Gilliam and his cowboys, the Maskrey children, the Armstrong sisters of Gardena and others will be featured."

Revival Services Close Sunday Night
Revival services at the Four Square Gospel church, Rev. James Burbury, pastor, which have been conducted during the past two weeks under the direction of Evangelist Rev. Fred M. Reed, will close Sunday evening. Rev. Reed will conduct three services during that day, a morning service at 10:30, afternoon service at 2:30 and evening service at 7:30. Prayer for the sick and a sermon on "Divine Healing" will be featured. Special services will be held tonight, tomorrow and Saturday night. The public is cordially invited to attend any and all meetings.

By death, defeat or resignation. This explains the reason why so many important chairmanships are held by men from Southern states. They have been kept in Congress for many years and logically in the course of time, reach the top of the heap.

I am also a member of the Committee on Patents.

Because of so many requests pouring into this office, I desire to state that there are no vacancies for West Point and Annapolis from the Seventeenth District either this year or next. Examinations were held last year and those with the highest grades and who were graduates of the Seventeenth District high schools, were appointed.

Haskell Tidwell of San Pedro, now in Washington, won a signal honor by being elected Speaker of the Little Congress, a group of about three hundred members composed of secretaries and other employees about the Capitol. This Little Congress discusses the measures before the House and the Senate and is one of the interesting debating groups of the Congress.

Speaker Byrns presented Tidwell with a gavel with the admonishment that he hoped Haskell could keep order in the Little Congress, as he has been unable to do so in the official body.

In many of the states, an agreement is made between the Senators and the Representatives as to the disposal of patronage. For instance in the State of Texas, it is agreed by the Senators and the Representatives that the two Senators from Texas are to control Federal Justice, Federal attorneys, U. S. marshals, internal revenue collectors, customs officers, postmasters in their home cities, all state-wide appointments and all appointments requiring the confirmation of the Senate.

The Congressmen in Texas recommend all the postmasters in their districts except the one made by the Senator, all the appointments made by the Treasury Department, the RFC, the Census Bureau, the Agricultural Department, the HOLC, etc.

Unfortunately for California Congressmen, no such agreement has been made in the state of California.

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text is from the Psalms: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unto my heart to fear thy name."

One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon includes these verses from Luke: "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Correlated passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy state: "Christian Science is the law of Truth, which heals the sick on the basis of the one Mind or God."
